Well-respected in the community, Stark State College plays a vital role in the economic growth and development of the region through its strong tradition of providing credit and noncredit educational and training services to employers and residents. Our community and business partnerships also are vital to the area, including our alignments with The Timken Company and TimkenSteel; FirstEnergy Corporation; General Motors, Toyota, Caterpillar and Honda; and many others. These collaborations fuel economic development, creating new industries and jobs in the area.

Stark State is the largest of Stark County's colleges and universities, and the fourth largest of Ohio's 23 public two-year colleges in the University System of Ohio. We offer more than 230 associate degrees, and certificates in business, education, engineering technologies, health and public services, information technology, liberal arts, mathematics and sciences.

The College awards associate of arts, associate of science, associate of applied science, associate of applied business and associate of technical studies degrees. Our wide range of short-term certificates help employees improve skills and gain a competitive edge in a marketplace of rapidly changing technology, and can lead to one-year certificates and associate degrees in a variety of fields.

Stark State offers a transfer module of 36-40 semester hours of credit courses guaranteed to transfer to all state-supported colleges and universities in Ohio. The College also has articulation agreements with more than 40 universities and colleges, allowing our students to move smoothly from associate degree programs into baccalaureate degree programs.

OPPORTUNITY OVERVIEW:

The Dean of Health & Public Services reports to the Provost and Chief Academic Officer and provides leadership, management, and direction to ensure that a quality level of teaching and learning, and delivery and scheduling of different course modalities are offered to all degree and nondegree seeking students who enroll in division courses, certificates, and programs.

The dean provides leadership and vision for the division, including managing student complaints, representing the interests of the division in campus meetings and community events, and operational planning for the growth and maintenance of the division. This position also provides leadership in developing and implementing student success and retention initiatives. This position is responsible for building and maintaining partnerships among faculty, staff, administration, and the community. This position assists in the creation and support of college policies and procedures; advises the Provost and Chief Academic Officer regarding any divisional concerns about college policies and procedures; follows college policies and procedures; and conducts disciplinary investigations of student and faculty misconduct and takes appropriate action. The dean supports and participates in the College's commitment to continuous improvement, organizational agility, and ensures compliance with state, regional, and program accreditation standards.

It is the responsibility of the dean to ensure that a quality level of teaching and learning be offered to all students who enroll in division courses. The Dean is responsible for cost-effective management within the division; leadership in program growth; leadership to increase the number and variety of clinical and practicum affiliations; leadership to maintain program specific accreditations; leadership to maintain the program admission process to set appropriate minimum standards while providing maximum access for qualified students; management to provide safe and effective care in division clinical facilities; leadership in satellites and College Credit Plus courses; assessment of a quality learning environment; faculty advising and advising of returning students; faculty evaluation and professional development; and effective personnel management of division employees.

The Dean provides leadership in College strategic planning initiatives and is responsible for assisting in all implementation strategies expected in this position including the development and management of strategic grants and partnerships with universities, businesses, community organizations, and government entities. The Dean is also responsible for development of knowledge and skills to support degree and certificate programs, integration of credit and non-credit offerings, and articulation with other institutions of higher education.
